Poster Competition

2020 Annual Meeting: October 28, 2020 at 4:30-7:00 pm
Regency Marriott, 10220 Regency Circle, Omaha NE 68114
Co-Chairs: Dixitha Anugula M.D, Wilbur Freeman D.O.
Rahul Dhawan M.D., Sajid Kadir M.D.

Call for abstracts: Nebraska cardiologists, fellows-in-training, and cardiovascular team members are requested to submit research abstracts for the Nebraska ACC 2020 Annual Meeting. Abstracts may cover any cardiovascular topic. Abstracts from projects previously presented at national meetings are eligible for the Nebraska ACC. Excellent case reports will also be considered. Abstracts accepted by the Nebraska ACC are still eligible for subsequent submission to the national ACC Scientific Sessions.

Format: Abstracts should include 4 sections: Background, Methods, Results, and Conclusions. All submissions should adhere to a 2500-character limit including title, section headers, and spaces. A figure counts as 600 characters and should be inserted within the Word document. Up to 10 references may be cited using American College of Cardiology format; references are not included in the character limit.

Submission and deadline: Abstracts should be submitted at the following link by midnight on September 15, 2020. <https://nmaevents.wufoo.com/forms/zpxuj0y011f1az/>

Evaluation: Abstracts will be evaluated by the Nebraska ACC based upon scientific importance and quality of presentation. Authors will be notified of acceptance by October 15th.

Presentation: Accepted abstracts will be presented as moderated posters at the Nebraska ACC 2020 Annual Meeting on October 28, 2020. In addition, accepted abstracts will be published on the Nebraska ACC website.

Competition: At the Nebraska ACC 2020 Annual Meeting, moderated posters will be judged by a panel including Dr. Venkata Alla, Dr. Michael Kim, Dr. Ioannis Chatzizisis, Dr. Aiman Smer, Dr. Steve Martin, and Dr. William Schleifer. Prizes will be $100 for the winning abstract and $50 for second place.

Questions: Questions regarding this competition should be directed to its co-chairs-
